EUFAMS II

Facilitating cross-border family life: towards a common European understanding

The EUFams II project comes to a close with an Online Final Conference. EUFams II is a study on European private international law in family and succession matters conducted by academic institutions from various EU-Member States and co-funded by the European Commission. The project's objective is to assess the functioning and the effectiveness of the framework of international and European family law, detect potential problems, and propose possible improvements. Ultimately, it aims to develop a common European expertise and understanding to secure the uniform, coherent, and consistent application of European family law, so as to facilitate the cross-border movement of persons within the EU.

The Online Final Conference entails presentations of the main findings of EUFams II and serves as a discussion forum for the future of European family and succession law.
