1.4. Search by words in the title

We search for words in the title when we partially know the words in the title, but we do not know in what exact order they appear in the title or in what place.

Example:

if we search: criminal corruption or corruption criminal

we'll get: Additional Protocol to the Criminal Law Convention on Corruption

SEARCH LIMITS (NOT MANDATORY)

Bibliographic level: any bibliographic level

Type of record: any type of record

Form of contents: any form of contents

Year of publication: 0001 through 9999

Keywords are added to each record by the librarian, based on the content of the paper/book, and for the purpose of easier search and retrieval of information.

We do NOT enter the names of the topics of the paper, sentences, we enter simple words that are key to our search without conjunctions, adverbs, prepositions, etc.

The more keywords we search for, the more specific the request and the lower the results. Eg. if we search criminal we will get a lot more results than if we search criminal procedural law.

Important!

In the keyword field, words from title and title, we can use the abbreviation STAR (*). This means that if we put the sign * from the root of a word (eg legal *) we will get all possible derivatives of that word. The * character replaces all other letters coming from the root.

Example:

- child
 - child, children, childless....
- international
 - international, internationality, internationally...

1.6. Boolean operators

AND (in CROLIST it is replaced by the space between two subject/term)

- Give me the document marked with all the listed subjects/terms
- The system will display all records in which both words appear

OR (replaced by "+" (plus) in CROLIST)

- give me all the documents that have either one or another subject/term
- Serves if you are unsure of a keyword or want all entries on both topics.

NOT (in CROLIST it is replaced by the sign "-" (minus))

- give me a record that has one but not another keyword in it
- You want to exclude this word from the search

1.7. Search by subject

The subject is the basic topic that the book/article talks about.

Types:

- personal name as a subject determinant
Kelsen, Hans
- a general term as a subject determinant
Criminology
- geographical name as a subject determinant
Croatia - Democracy

Primjer: European Union

1.8. Journal article - analytics

The most important elements for identifying an article in a journal (analytics) and finding it are:

- journal title (main publication) > Maastricht journal of European and comparative law
- year/volume, year, and number > 20 (2013), 2 (always in the given form)

Upon arrival at the library for the above article, ask for the main publication from the library staff in which the article is located: "I need the journal - Maastricht journal of European and comparative law, number 2 from 2013."

530923002: analytic/2	ISBD

2. Catalogs of other libraries

Once you learn the basic patterns of using our library, you will be able to apply them in all libraries regardless of the location or country in which the library is located. Boolean operators are an internationally recognized search standard, and are used from libraries, databases all the way to Google.

We recommend that you also use catalogs from other libraries:

- catalogs of libraries of other law faculties
- catalog of the City and University Library of Osijek \(GISKO\)
- National and University Library catalog

The screenshot shows the homepage of the National and University Library of Zagreb (NSK) catalog. The header includes the library's name in Croatian, a logo, and navigation links like 'Početna', 'Postavke', and 'Pomoć'. The main section is titled 'Katalog' and features a search bar with a dropdown menu set to 'naslov'. Below the search bar are buttons for 'Potvrdite' and 'Očistite'. The interface is clean and professional, with a light gray background and red accents.

The screenshot displays the search interface of the KATALOG GRADSKO I SVEUČILIŠNE KNJIŽNICE OSIJEK. It features a search bar with a dropdown menu for selecting search criteria: 'Ključne riječi', 'Autori', 'Naslov', 'Riječi iz naslova i jezik', 'Predmet', and 'UDK'. Below the search bar is a text input field labeled 'Upisite tekst' and a 'Pretraži' button. The interface is simple and functional, with a light gray background and blue accents.

The screenshot shows the search interface of the Pravni Fakultet | Sveučilište u Zagrebu library. It features a search bar with a dropdown menu for selecting search criteria: 'Autori', 'Naslovi', 'Predmeti', 'Ključne riječi (BOOLEAN)', and 'UDK'. Below the search bar is a text input field labeled 'i upisite tekst' and a 'Pretraži' button. The interface is clean and professional, with a light gray background and blue accents.

3. Portal of electronic sources for the Croatian academic and scientific community

Databases can be:

- Databases with full text (it is possible to search and download full texts of articles, books, collections, etc.)
- Bibliographic databases (contain bibliographic data on the source of information - article, book, etc.)
- Citation databases (contain data on the citation of papers, which paper is cited, when and which paper cited it)

Members of the scientific research academic community of the Republic of Croatia have access to various databases through subscriptions from the Ministry of Science and Education.

Access is provided through the Electronic Sources Portal for the Croatian academic and scientific community, to all members of the scientific research academic community via an IP address from the Faculty's computer, and from home via a proxy server. To access via a proxy server, use AAI @ EduHr (electronic identity).

3.1. EBSCO Discovery Service

Under the number 1 you have an example of a keyword search by selecting your own university/institution in the drop-down menu and the number of results.

In the second example you have the choice of the University of Zagreb/NSK from which it is visible to get (in this example) a million more results, which means that you can get to the source of information on the requested query that, possibly, you can not get through your own institution, but we can use interlibrary loan institute. EBSCO's support in the test phase therefore insisted that we install these menus.

Of course, this is a huge number to search for the keyword itself, but that's why you use advanced search using the Boolean operators (and, or, not) shown in the third example. For the results obtained on the left, you can limit the results by: date of publication, language, types of sources, publications, publisher, etc.

For this reason, it is available exclusively from the Faculty's computer via links available on the library's website or via our proxy server. 3.4. CROSBİ \(Croatian scientific bibliography\)

The Croatian Scientific Bibliography (bibliographic database) is "equipped" with interfaces for searching, filtering and sorting by relevance and is an easily accessible source for various scientometric analyzes on a national or global level. However, the greatest value of the CROSBİ bibliography is contained in the fact that it is created by the authors themselves, while librarians, computer and information specialists provide patterns, standards and monitoring of the entire process.

Through a very simple but effective search we can very quickly get a bibliography of the desired author sorted by categories of papers or we can find out what is written on the required topic also classified by types of papers (author's book, editorial book, chapter in the book, etc.)

ZIR slavi peti rođendan!

Nacionalni repozitorij završnih i diplomskih radova ZIR započeo je s radom prije pet godina, 21. kolovoza 2015. godine. ZIR je uspostavljen u Nacionalnoj i sveučilišnoj knjižnici u Zagrebu u suradnji sa Sveučilišnim računskim centrom Sveučilišta u Zagrebu (Srce) radi trajne pohrane i javnog pristupa svim završnim i diplomskim radovima obranjenim u Republici Hrvatskoj.

Nova funkcionalnost u repozitorijima – spremanje radova (bookmark)

Na repozitorijima u Dabru omogućeno je spremanje objekata u liste (engl. bookmark), što svakom prijavljenom korisniku pruža mogućnost spremanja pojedinih radova u vlastitu listu (Moja lista). Na taj način je moguće grupirati radove potrebne pripremi i obradi.

Legislative procedures can also be monitored. The database is updated daily and contains more than 3 million items, including some texts from 1951.
