

organises

PhD COLLOQUIUM

18 June 2026

- hybrid event -

The PhD Colloquium is an event that brings together supervisors, doctoral candidates, faculty members, collaborators, and guests to present and discuss their research, exchange ideas, and share experiences concerning the many challenges encountered in the pursuit of a doctoral degree.

We warmly invite you to join us!

PROGRAMME

16:00 - 17:15	Introductory Lectures
17:15 - 17:30	Coffee Break
17:30 - 18:30	Panel Discussion

Introductory Lectures

Chair: Professor Mirela Župan, PhD

- Kanan Naghiyev (PhD Candidate, Masaryk University Brno, Czechia / Azerbaijan): Can Personal Data Be Safely Sandboxed? LLM Training, Data Protection and Informational Self-Determination
- Jura Golub (PhD Candidate, Faculty of Law Osijek, Croatia): Digital Assets: Between EU Regulatory Categorisation and Private Law Qualification
- Ivan Vidaković (PhD Candidate, Faculty of Law Osijek, Croatia): The Presumption of Innocence as a Limit to the Use of Artificial Intelligence in Judicial Fact-Finding in Criminal Proceedings: Burden of Proof, Standard of Proof, and In Dubio Pro Reo

Panel Discussion

PhD Candidates of the Faculty of Law Osijek

Co-chairs: Ivan Vidaković and Jura Golub

- Marijana Jukić: Risks of Using AI in Social Protection Systems
- Monika Boras (online): Artificial Intelligence and the Challenges to the Protection of the Right to Life
- Elizabeta Kovač (online): Challenges of Personal Data Protection in Digitalised Insolvency Proceedings
- Marina Balentović (online): Child's Personal Data Protection in Family Disputes: Through Anonymisation to Effective Protection?
- Karla Oberkirš: The EU and the Circulation of Birth Certificates in the Digital Age
- Sanjin Gašparić (online): Personal Data Protection in the Republic of Croatia in the Activities of Public Law Bodies